Full Description

The former fields shown on the 1 ed 6" OS map are not classically piecemeal in form but this is the best fit of the available HLC types.

The Wansdyke forms the northern boundary of this land parcel, and is marked on the modern and historic mapping.

This area includes Brittle Wood, which was well established by the C19 (as it shows on the 1 ed 6" OS map). However, the wood is too small to be mapped as a separate character area.

These mainly regular fields have changed little since the 1 ed 6" OS map. They probably represent an episode of planned enclosure, with irregularities the result of topography. No previous character can be identified in this area from the sources.

Broad Type Fields and enclosed land Type Planned enclosure Confidence Probable

Period Post Medieval to C21 - 1540 AD? to 2012 AD

Full Description

The fields here seem to be more planned than piecemeal in character - although there are some irregularities in field form.

Fields exist in an area named as Melksham Forest, but no woodland can be seen in the vicinity on any of the sources,

Difficult to characterise if this land is currently enclosed or unenclosed. As there still seem to be some field boundaries the character has been recorded as amalgamated fields (as boundary removal has occurred) rather than unimproved grassland. However, it does seem likely that this land is in use for grazing now.

This area seems to be predominantly rough grassland, with the form and divisions of the land dictated by the watercourses. The land is shown in a similar form on the 1 ed 6" OS map so there appears to be continuity of character here.

Broad Type Unimproved land Type Unimproved grassland Confidence Probable

These very regular fields were formed by combining the enclosures shown on the 1 ed 6" OS map. These former fields were set out to plan in the late post medieval era. Their layout may suggest enclosure of open land, but the sources do not confirm this.

Full Description

Size and regular nature of these fields may suggest that an area of formerly open grassland existed here in the past. The 1 ed OS maps do not confirm this former character so it has only been tentatively recorded as a previous character type here.

Broad Lane Farm and Totterdown Farm exist in this area, and are also shown on the 1 ed 6" OS map. They seem to have been created when these fields were created. However, they are too small to be mapped as separate character areas so have been included here. Farms probably of late C19 date?

This woodland is not shown on the 1 ed 1" OS map, although it is not clear whether this is due to the small size or the fact it hadn't been created. As such, it seems likely that this woodland is of later C19 date and was planted in an area of planned enclosures as exists elsewhere in the vicinity.

Full Description

This area contains Rhotteridge Farm, which has historic origins and shows on the 1 ed 6" OS map. However, the farm is too small to map separately so it has been included here for group value.

Full Description

On balance, the morphology here seems to suggest an orderly division/enclosure of the land, with some variations in form being the result of disused railway tracks and local topography..

This area includes Leechpool Farm, which is shown on the 1 ed 6" OS map and has historic origins. However, the farm is too small to map as a separate character area or to influence the dominant character of this landscape.

The fields here are difficult to characterise. Their form is very irregular and it is not clear if this is because of a previous unidentified character, or if local topography/watercourses have had an influence.

Full Description

The survival of tree-lined avenues and scattered veteran trees alludes to the former parkland character.

The 1 ed 6" OS map shows some vague field parcels within this parkland - and these may suggest that the land was once planned enclosures, like elsewhere in the vicinity (as no parkland is shown on the 1 ed 1" OS map). This character is not really legible so has been inferred from the 1 ed 6" OS map.

Modern and historical sources show numerous designed parkland features here including ornamental planting, gardens, paths/routeways and lawned areas.

The land formed part of Spye Park in the post medieval period. This designed landscape was believed to have been adapted from a former medieval deer park. However, this previous character has been recorded on the basis of labelling on the historic mapping rather than legible evidence in the landscape.

These fairly irregular fields seem to have changed little since the 1 ed 6" OS. They seem to represent an episode of piecemeal enclosure and it is possible that field morphology has been affected by topography or watercourses. No obvious prior character.

Broad Type	Type	Confidence
Fields and enclosed land	Piecemeal enclosure	Possible

Full Description

Uncertain whether these fields represent piecemeal enclosure or assarts (as there are some areas of well established or ancient woodland in the vicinity). However, on the basis that there is less plausible evidence for assarting in this area, they have been tentatively recorded as piecemeal enclosures.

Maples Farm (historic origins) and Woodlands Farm (modern origins) exist here. However, they are too small to map as separate character areas or to influence the character of the landscape - hence their inclusion here.

Full Description

The 2001 and 2005/06 aerial photographs show elements of ridge and furrow surviving across this area of fields. This indicates that the post medieval piecemeal enclosures consolidated open fields comprised of strips. These strip fields likely had Saxon/medieval origins.

Full Description

The earlier historic maps show an adhoc piecemeal field here. However, the creation of the sewage works has obscured this former use so the previous type has been inferred.

The EUS marks this as a mixture of growth to c.1945.
